

This text message leaps to conclusions that logic cannot reach because he cannot in the bathhouse or in the spring he is none of these and he cannot in his eyes and in none of these wait... irrational judgments (or texts messages) lead only sometimes to a new experience but he wasn't in the winter he cannot in the bathhouse in his mysticism he is none of these in his eyes in the fall and in

none of these he wasn't in the bathhouse in the summer and in his eyes he is none of these he cannot and he is none of these his cannot in his eyes in the bathhouse wait... irrational thoughts should be followed absolutely and logically but no it just is no he is not hungry no one no yes you should tell him yes not always just sometimes not everyday only one second because he doesn't yes not like the wait instead no it just is no yes this doubt no is not good yes it is for the soul but but but but but these texts comment on poetry but are not poetry.
