This tool was created to expose where your data travels to and from every day. By visiting websites, you send and request data, knowledge, and sometimes ideas across the geopolitical world almost instantaneously. This sending & receiving allows us to do amazing things, but also puts us under the 'super-jurisdiction' of the states we send/receive to/from. The notion that our physical location is equivalent to the jurisdiction in which we can be prosecuted has been proved obsolete by the U.S. DOJ⁽¹⁾, and knowing where our virtual selves travel is more important than ever.
