Nine Inch Nails Mashed Up With Taylor Swift Actually Works Really Well

Mashup master Isosine has been known for mixing two wildly different artists and somehow making it work. Remember when he did Slipknot vs. Justin Beiber into Psychosocial Baby and it somehow worked like a goddamn charm? Well, he's back with yet another odd pairing that just clicks.

Below is a video that mashes Taylor Swift's mega hit "Shake It Off" with Nine Inch Nails' "The Perfect Drug" (which is one of my favorite videos from the group). Just like "Psychosocial Baby", the mashup takes the music of the poppier track and overlays it with the more aggressive vocals of NIN.
